

William Sprott (Portadown) Ltd

Edward Street

Address

Contact Person

Mobile Number

Email

William Sprott of Portadown can trace its quality pork production way back to 1880. Today, it's one of a handful of small bacon and ham curing houses still operating in Northern Ireland. The family firm was winning medals in London shows as far back as 1892. Their Belfast Ham, a dry salted variety, graced the high tables at Buckingham Palace in the 1920s.

For more details, please visit <https://uk.ibizexpert.com/william-sprott-portadown-ltd-craigavon-1940>
